

I can only say that this is the start of a great adventure. 200G has accomplished a lot, but still has more to achieve. The team has faced many challenges and had to overcome many obstacles. It was through this experience that we have grown to embrace our passion for STEM and have challenged many stereotypes.

200G proves that we are capable, knowledgeable, and confident. In my mind, "Girl Powered" signifies a growing force in girls. It appears weak at first, but through time, it grows stronger and brighter. The collection of multiple forces on our team results in a collective power. It can shield from judgemental opinions and can drive us to do better.

Girl
Powered

Although we did not know how to fly at the start, it did not stop us from lifting our feet off the ground. Through 200G, we have empowered each other. We are determined, persistent, and diligent. With our new superhero capes, we can fly above the clouds and soar into an endless future of possibilities.
