

Now enter the founders of 200G, our team captains, Crystal Jin and Sylvia Gehring. You can think of them both as Katniss Everdeen from the Hunger Games - passionate, strong-willed, and fearless

Their skills and knowledge of robotics helped the rest of our team flourish. Two years before starting 200G, both girls were on the varsity LanceBotics team. Crystal and Sylvia had the same STEM role models who inspired them to pursue their passion: Sahar and Maria. They were considered the “Robotics Moms” of their Grade 12 class team. They guided young Crystal and young Sylvia, helping them realize that they were two of the most important team members.
