

Teamwork is more than just working to win, it's about the journey of getting there. Our team represents this with our stable relationships and sturdy motivation to continue onward no matter what. We're like a table; if one leg breaks then the table will be unbalanced and topple over. This means it must be repaired, and our team does just that. We support and motivate each other and if one of us gets discouraged, we all pitch in to help. We work our hardest and support the weight of what our team has to hold.