

This piece can be really useful because it can be used as a mounting point and it can also be used as a base piece. This piece could potentially change the whole way we make our bots! If you chose this piece it could change the building part of robotics for ever. My team would use this piece to help mount our claw better and potentially add a ball collector. This piece would be a complete game changer for robotics so please consider it.