

This picture describes the feeling of disappointment, distress, and embarrassment during our STEM robot competition. In this scene, our STEM robot was dropped in the middle of a teams driving competition shattering our hopes of winning the competition. The feeling of our robot splitting in half was distressful for me and for our team. We chose this photo because it conveyed the most emotion in our whole experience with our STEM robot in our 2019-2020 year.