

I choose this image because our team is on top of our game and I feel that I need thumbs up. to get me going and I love robotics we all need a thumbs up to help get motivation this reminds me because once I was watching a robotics tournament and Mrs. Johnson gave her thumbs up to the team before and after they won a other thing is I was launching my bottle rocket and they gave me a thumbs up so I got excited because I got to launch my rocket. This is why I I love robotics because the thumbs up gave me motivation.
