

The picture of the Lego smiley face shows how happy I feel when I do robotics. I chose to use Lego pieces because I use Legos every day. They remind me of building the robot. Building the robot is definitely my favorite part of robotics. I like trying to fit the pieces together and see if they are able to work well together.