

Team 31887A

This is an image of a Lego spaceship. This reminds me of building robots in class with my classmates. After almost every class we would assemble a robot until one day we were completed. We were all so happy at that moment. This reminds me of my experience with my classmates.