

While setting up at one of my 2019-2020 robotics competitions, I looked down and saw a small toy. It was dusty and looked like it hadn't been used for a while, and my teammates tried to convince me not to take it home, but I thought it was really funny, so I did anyway. My past teammates and I still laugh about that day. Now, it's a reminder that no matter how stressful robotics gets, there will always be good times, and the good times are worth it.
