

A Meeting From Our Perspective

Here, we are having our daily meetings where we talk about our robot or online challenges. This is how we do meetings during the pandemic, with sanitizers, masks, and tools on the desk. Everyone really enjoys this meeting because even though we all have different responsibilities within the team, we believe that it is crucial to share our ideas and opine. We think that is what makes VRC so special, it shows us many different areas to work on so we can start thinking about our future while collecting so many memories and having so much fun with our team!
