

A Bond Beyond

Not too long ago, my team and I were working in this garage, scrambling to learn the basics of VEX as a first-year team. This year, despite the unpredictable troubles COVID-19 has brought, we remained strong. To ensure our safety, our team has resorted to Zoom calls instead of in-person builds; while it has impacted our efficiency at executing our tasks (especially for building), our bond as a team has only grown stronger. Despite being stuck at home, our friendships grew. Thus, beyond our boxes of comfort, our drive, our motivation, our team, our bond blossoms.
