Adam Herrera

23 November 2020

"Thinking Outside the Box": My Grandfather

Throughout my life in Robotics, I have only ever had one motive. I have wanted to live up to his legacy that he is leaving me ever since I was little. My grandfather is the best engineer I know. We build and design anything out of anything just for fun. To live up to his legacy he is leaving me is a true goal of mine. When he was diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease, it nearly broke me. It is a living hell seeing my grandfather's brilliant mind slip away, but I am forever grateful for everything he teaches me.