" Gender Equality"

- The big team is the one who active all of its members in order to carry out the tasks, whether they are boys or girls. There is no so-called separation in the tasks according to the gender. Since girls have large roles in many fields, the ROBOPOWER team divided all the tasks and the robot design among all team members equally. So, if the robot crashes in any match, the whole team could fix the problem and make a great improvement in a short time and high professionalism.
