

This poster was created by using the app "Procreate". Its theme was inspired by King Arthur and the knights of the round table. The mobile goal was made to look like Excalibur to draw attention to the certain values someone must possess to join Decabots, while the fantastical aspects of the legends were adapted to reflect the excitement of being a part of VEX. Additionally, the use of a well-known story was meant to give people a sense of familiarity and make robotics seem less intimidating for someone without experience.
