

A traditional VEX Innovators desk by Ankita Ahlawat:

Albert Einstein famously asked, "If a cluttered desk is a sign of a cluttered mind, what is an empty desk a sign of?" The image I took is meant to depict an inventor's desk, whether they are a mathematician, artist, coder, or engineer. The person viewing the photo may choose to examine it from distinct viewpoints in order to determine whose desk it is. The robot on the desk is part of an electronic class offered at Monroe Township High School to get students interested in robotics and STEM-related fields.
