

RIT: Implementing Solutions Found From Math

This picture shows a visualized version of math our team has used on our robot. There are sketches on the whiteboard with dimensions of different parts on our robot, as well as some math equations that we used to get dimensions for certain mechanisms. In front of the whiteboard, we show how that math is then implemented in CAD.