To begin to develop our poster we had to establish our main idea we want to send through our digital poster. While knowing that our poster is meant to draw students to join robotics we developed things that explained the fun benefits of robotics. Each member of our team developed at least one reason or topic of why we love robotics. After consulting Coach. Egbert we summed all our ideas together and singled the most influential one. After we picked the best reason we headed to canva and one of our members designed her very own poster from scratch. We were sure to include the 4 main reasons we love robotics you are able to dream of something, build that something, program that something, and then drive that something! And in the back you can see a photo of our team members showing support for each other at our last competition. This faded image gives a sense of achievement and friendship. After adding all necessary details we now have completed a poster that fits our perfect image!
