

The backdrop of our picture is one of the greatest engineering feats of its time. The Golden Gate Bridge was at one point deemed an impossible feat due to the extreme lengths it had to span. However, after a grueling 4 years, the engineers behind it overcame all the obstacles in their way. It represents the problems that we as students in Vex have to overcome as we work tirelessly through the course of the season for continued improvements, and the limitless calculations made along the way.