1) When I hear the phrase "Girl Powered" I think of girls wearing superhero capes flying over the city saving people. 🦸

3) Yes, our team members try various roles. For example, we have two main programmers, one designer, and everybody in our team is a driver. 🎮

4) We improved our robot based on inputs from different people. For example, the tipping bucket's ramps from Annabel, the extension arm from Mia (Me), a "hook" for the extension arm from an alliance team, and the tipping bucket from Miley.

5) My STEM role model is one of my classmates, Remi, because she got into the worlds in the Invention Convention.
