Description:

Hey guys! As you can see the poster is about how robotics is fun first, we get to go on to fun competitions and at the competitions we get to eat chips, bananas, tocos, cookies, and pizza. Robotics is fun because you can build any robot you want and it can look like whatever you want it to. And when you grow up there is a good chance of you being a coder or even a construction worker. We play, we build, we eat! When we first started the poster the only things we had were the three months ago and three pictures and in 1 month we made this poster. We created it on google slides and we choose the vex iq logo from vex logo guidelines.
