

Title of submission: Passion, Innovation, & Teamwork

Name of students: Khai, Nghi, My

Team number: FOUR4

Location: Rogers State University, Claremore, Oklahoma

Poster Description

Our poster aims to express what we believe to be the most important aspect of VEX Robotics (passion, innovation, teamwork). This perfectly depicts our experience when we started participating in VEX competitions. We began with a sole passion for knowledge in the robotics field, having minimal prior experience in engineering or building robots. The VEX community has provided us with numerous opportunities for innovation and self-improvement, allowing us the freedom to fail, succeed, and learn. Through VEX competitions, we've witnessed that everybody, regardless of gender or characteristics, can compete, showcasing their talents and advancing in robotics. Lastly, teamwork is the invaluable aspect we've experienced in VEX U competitions, where we develop bonds that extend beyond the competition floor."