Description: We are a group of university teenagers, we learn robotics at the IQ Technology Foundation, as the days go by, sharing day by day, designing our robots, we became great friends and among our common interests is being able to put our knowledge into practice in robotics and in the engineering careers that we are studying in companies in our city. It is a dream that we finally managed to fulfill. The company Tecnoglass, the largest generator of employment in our city and a great social contributor, opened its doors to us to solve a problem they have, we visited their facilities and there was that beautiful photo of us, in the role of future engineers.
