VEX Robotics encourages you to be creative and challenge yourself. Our poster highlights how VEX Robotics is a team effort and encourages you to learn how to code, build, and work with a team. Teams work together to accomplish a goal and compete against other teams. We created our poster with the hope to encourage others to join a robotics team and challenge themselves while learning teamwork skills. The poster was made using a poster board base, gold foil letters for an eye-catching title, and printed pictures from the VEX Robotics website and markers for the messaging.
